

A PROCLAMATION FOR "NATIONAL RECREATION MONTH"

WHEREAS, the citizens of Minnesota are fortunate in the many leisure hours in which they are free to choose their own activities; and

WHEREAS, it behooves us to make good use of this leisure both for our own happiness and in order to be more useful citizens of our country; and

WHEREAS, our new leisure offers us the opportunity to explore new worlds of recreational interests; and

WHEREAS, Minnesota provides a wide variety of recreation facilities and activities which can be enjoyed singly or in groups by citizens of all ages and visitors to our fair state.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Orville L. Freeman, Governor of the State of Minnesota, do hereby proclaim the month of June 1959 as

and urge all people of and visitors to the state of Minnesota to use this opportunity to find new worlds through recreation by enjoying our state's recreation facilities and by exploring the many activities which are available. And I further urge them to join with their friends and families to support our local recreation programs to the end that we may all be happier and better citizens because of our wise use of our leisure time.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of Minnesota to be affixed at the State Capitol this twenty-second day of April in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fifty-nine and of the state, the one hundred first.

GOVERNOR
