PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the foundation of all human progress is the contact daily and weekly between the members of our society in carrying out the necessary business of civilization; and

WHEREAS, it is necessary to good human relations in business, industry, education, government and the home, that the inherent worth of each individual be recognized and that consideration be given to the rights and dignity of all human beings; and

WHEREAS, the Dale Carnegie Club International is again sponsoring a "Good Human Relations Week" throughout the United States, Canada, South Africa and other parts of the world,

NOW THEREFORE, I, Cuvillie L. Freeman, Governor of the State of Minnesota, do hereby proclaim the week of April 25 through April 30, 1960 as

and urge all citizens to observe this week by recognizing and extending the practice of consideration for the rights of our fellow citizens and by living the fundamentals of good human relations practice not only during this week but throughout the entire year.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of Minnesota to be affixed at the State Capitol this twenty-first day of April in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and sixty and of the state the one hundred second.

Cuvillie L. Freeman
