

Proclamation

WHEREAS: The innate desire for true harmony and peace is within us all; and

WHEREAS: We in the United States have been given tremendous spiritual capacities and blessings, and have the great mission to lead the entire world to lasting peace; and

WHEREAS: In order to accomplish this mission, it is imperative that we all do our part to continually wish or pray for world peace, and that we firmly dedicate our hearts and minds to the ultimate goal of peace for all mankind by dispelling negative thoughts and replacing them with thoughts of harmony and peace; and

WHEREAS: Peace Day has been celebrated annually on September 7 since 1978 through the observance of one minute of silence for world peace, and since 1982 the United Nations has designated the third Tuesday in September as an International Day of Peace; and

WHEREAS: The heartfelt wishes, thoughts or prayers for world peace offered by all Americans will help our cities, states, nation and all countries of the world to secure peace for this and future generations;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Rudy Perpich, Governor of the State of Minnesota, do hereby proclaim Friday, September 7, 1984, to be
