Secretary of State,
St. Paul, Minnesota

Sir:

I am applying for the survey of a small island on which I have built a home and made some improvements. The island contains from between one to five acres judging from the comments of others. I myself am unversed in judgments of size. It is in Upper Cormorant Lake in Sec. 16 and 17, T. 138 N., R. 43 W., 5th P. M. in Minnesota. An old island, there when the first settlers came, it yet remains unsurveyed.

Would you as Secretary of State have any objections to the proposed survey?

Yours respectfully

Elise M. Rushfeldt
