LOCAL GOVERNMENT PAY EQUITY COMPLIANCE REPORT

January 1993

Submitted to the Minnesota Legislature by the Department of Employee Relations
Second Floor, Centennial Office Building

St. Paul, MN 55155

— Pursuant to Mn Stat 471.999 —

LOCAL GOVERNMENT PAY EQUITY COMPLIANCE REPORT

This report is submitted to the legislature by the Department of Employee Relations (DOER) as required by the Local Government Pay Equity Act (M.S. 471.999). A copy of the law is attached as Appendix A.

Requirements of the law

The Local Government Pay Equity Act of 1984 requires local governments to "establish equitable compensation relationships" by December 31, 1991. Other common terms for "equitable compensation relationships" are "comparable worth" or "pay equity."

The purpose of the law is "to eliminate sex-based wage disparities in public employment in this state." Equitable compensation relationships are achieved when "the compensation for female-dominated classes is not consistently below the compensation for male-dominated classes of comparable work value... within the political subdivision."

The law requires DOER to determine whether local governments have achieved pay equity, based on implementation reports submitted by local governments. The first such reports were due on January 31, 1992. The department had anticipated being able to begin reviewing the reports immediately, but due an unexpected delay in the rulemaking process, DOER could not begin reviewing reports until the effective date of the rule which was October 12, 1992.

The rulemaking process

In 1991 the legislature authorized DOER to adopt rules under the Administrative Procedures Act to assure compliance with the Local Government Pay Equity Act (Laws 1991, chapter 128, section 2). A public hearing was conducted on November 14, 1991 by Administrative Law Judge Allen E. Giles from the Office of Administrative Hearings.

On January 3, 1992 the department received the report from Judge Giles in which he concluded the content of the rule was "needed and reasonable" and recommended no changes. He also concluded that DOER needed to prepare a more adequate fiscal note. This delayed the final adoption of the rule and resulted in the need for another public hearing. On July 8, 1992 Judge Allen E. Giles again conducted a public hearing, and on August 31, 1992 the department received his report. He again concluded that the rule was "needed and reasonable," recommended no changes and ruled that the department had fulfilled all procedural requirements, including that of a fiscal note. DOER proceeded to adopt the rule and publish the required notice in the State Register, and on October 12, 1992, the rule became effective.

The following is a summary of the provisions of the rule:

- * Definitions for terms such as benefits, compensation, and employee.
- * A process for resolving questions about which jurisdiction is responsible for particular groups of employees.
- * A list of information which local governments must include in their pay equity reports to DOER.
- * Information about tests jurisdictions must pass to be found in compliance: a statistical analysis test, an alternative analysis test for smaller jurisdictions and those with no salary ranges, completeness and accuracy test, salary range test, and exceptional service pay test.
- * A notification process to inform jurisdictions of DOER's compliance decision and subsequent steps. The rule also includes procedures for notifying employees.
- * Appeals procedures, including reconsideration, requests for suspension of penalties, and contested case appeals.
- * Penalties, including the enforcement conditions and procedures.
- * Procedures for ensuring that pay equity is maintained in the future.

Copies of the proposed rule and supporting materials are available from the DOER's pay equity coordinator at (612) 296-2653.

Assistance to local governments

DOER has informed the more than 1600 local governments covered by the law about the compliance determination process and rule through a number of mechanisms.

- * A software program completed in May of 1992 was made available to local governments enabling them to work with their own data at their own work sites. The program calculates the statistical tests for compliance described in the rule and is accompanied by detailed instructions and a "Guide to Understanding Pay Equity Analysis System Reports." Over 400 of the programs have been ordered and requests continue to come in.
- * Letters announcing the finalization of the rule and information regarding the compliance review process were sent out in November of 1992 to all local governments.
- * Interaction with a rulemaking advisory committee continued after the department received the first report from the administrative law judge in January of 1992. The committee included representatives of employer organizations, unions and women's groups. This 30-member group spent more than 850 hours collectively in nine meetings from May 1991 to February 1992 discussing and reviewing compliance guidelines and advising DOER on the rule.

- * Technical assistance from DOER staff is ongoing. The department established a full-time pay equity coordinator position in 1989. In the last three years, the coordinator has advised local governments through extensive training, telephone consultation, and preliminary evaluations of their compliance status. Written materials are sent in response to almost daily requests for information.
- * A data base of all local government reports has been created enabling DOER staff to immediately bring up information about a particular jurisdiction while a caller is on the line. For example, questions can be answered about such things as compliance status, reporting dates, number of employees, number of job classes and results of statistical tests for compliance.

Reviewing Reports

The law and rule establish a complex process for determining compliance and reviewing appeals. In summary, these steps are involved:

- * DOER makes an initial compliance decision. If a jurisdiction is not in compliance, the department notifies the jurisdiction of a new date by which compliance must be achieved to avoid a financial penalty.
- * Any jurisdiction found not in compliance and having unusual circumstances or hardship may request DOER to reconsider the compliance decision or the time given to come into compliance.
- * After the new date for achieving compliance, DOER must review a new implementation report. If a jurisdiction is still not in compliance, the department notifies the jurisdiction that a penalty will be imposed.
- * Any jurisdiction subject to a penalty may request the department to suspend the penalty. In addition, such a jurisdiction may initiate a contested case appeal.
- * No penalties may be imposed until the end of a legislative session in which the department submits a report listing a jurisdiction as not in compliance.
- * Jurisdictions found in compliance must submit new reports every three years on a staggered schedule beginning in 1994, to ensure that pay equity is maintained.

The department expected to make initial compliance decisions for all jurisdictions by the end of calendar year 1992 and include the list with this report. However, because the rule was not finalized until October of 1992, the department is still in the midst of reviewing local government reports. The list of jurisdictions in and out of compliance is not yet complete, so in fairness to all jurisdictions, DOER is planning to submit a follow-up report later in the legislative session after all of the reports have been reviewed.

In the meantime, DOER will continue to send letters to jurisdictions advising them of their compliance status, and will continue to answer inquiries about individual jurisdictions. The department will continue to work with all parties to ensure that the goals of the pay equity law are met, and that the process is understood by all affected.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT PAY EQUITY ACT

Chapter 471

Rights, Powers, Duties: Several Political Subdivisions

471.991 Definitions.

Subdivision 1. Terms. For the purposes of Laws 1984, chapter 651, the following terms have the meanings given them.

Subd. 2. Balanced class. "Balanced class" means any class in which no more than 80 percent of the members are male and no more than 70 percent of the members are female.

Subd. 3. Comparable work value. "Comparable work value" means the value of work measured by the skill, effort, responsibility, and working conditions normally required in the performance of the work.

Subd. 4. Class. "Class" means one or more positions that have similar duties, responsibilities, and general qualifications necessary to perform the duties, with comparable selection procedures used to recruit employees, and use of the same compensation schedule.

Subd. 5. Equitable compensation relationship. "Equitable compensation relationship" means that the compensation for female-dominated classes is not consistently below the compensation for male-dominated classes of comparable work value as determined under section 471.994, within the political subdivision.

Subd. 6. Female-dominated class. "Female-dominated class" means any class in which 70 percent or more of the members are female.

Subd. 7. Male-dominated class. "Male-dominated class" means any class in which 80 percent or more of the members are male.

Subd. 8. Position. "Position" means a group of current duties and responsibilities assigned or delegated by a supervisor to an individual.

471.992 Equitable Compensation Relationships.

Subdivision 1. Establishment. Subject to sections 179A.01 to 179A.25 and sections 177.41 to 177.44 but notwithstanding any other law to the contrary, every political subdivision of this state shall establish equitable compensation relationships between female-dominated, male-dominated, and balanced classes of employees in order to eliminate sex-based wage disparities in public employment in this state. A primary consideration in negotiating, establishing, recommending, and approving compensation is comparable work value in relationship to other employee positions within the political subdivision. This law may not be construed to limit the ability of the parties to collectively bargain in good faith.

Subd. 2. Arbitration. In all interest arbitration involving a class other than a balanced class held under sections 179A.01 to 179A.25, the arbitrator shall consider the equitable compensation relationship standards established in this section and the standards established under section 471.993 together with other standards appropriate to interest arbitration. The arbitrator shall consider both the results of a job evaluation study and any employee objections to the study. In interest arbitration for a balanced class, the arbitrator may consider the standards established under this section and the results of, and any employee objections to, a job evaluation study, but shall also consider similar or like classifications in other political subdivisions.

Subd. 3. Collective Bargaining. In collective bargaining for a balanced class, the parties may consider the equitable compensation relationship standards established by this section and the results of a job evaluation study, but shall also consider similar or like classifications in other political subdivisions.

471.993 Compensation Relationships of Positions.

Subdivision 1. Assurance of reasonable relationship. In preparing management negotiation positions for compensation established through collective bargaining under chapter 179A and in establishing, recommending, and approving compensation plans for employees of political subdivisions not represented by an exclusive representative under chapter 179A, the respective political subdivision as the public employer, as defined in section 179A.03, subdivision 15, or, where appropriate, the Minnesota merit system, shall assure that:

- (1) compensation for positions in the classified civil service, unclassified civil service, and management bear reasonable relationship to one another;
- (2) compensation for positions bear reasonable relationship to similar positions outside of that particular political subdivision's employment; and
- (3) compensation for positions within the employer's work force bear reasonable relationship among related job classes and among various levels within the same occupational group.

Subd. 2. Reasonable relationship defined. For purposes of subdivision 1, compensation for positions bear "reasonable relationship" to one another if:

- (1) the compensation for positions which require comparable skill, effort, responsibility, working conditions, and other relevant work-related criteria is comparable; and
- (2) the compensation for positions which require differing skill, effort, responsibility, working conditions, and other relevant work-related criteria is proportional to the skill, effort, responsibility, working conditions, and other relevant work-related criteria required.

471.994 Job Evaluation System.

Every political subdivision shall use a job evaluation system in order to determine the comparable work value of the work performed by each class of its employees. The system must be maintained and updated to account for new employee classes and any changes in factors affecting the comparable work value of existing classes. A political subdivision that substantially modifies its job evaluation system or adopts a new system shall notify the commissioner. The political subdivision may use the system of some other public employer in the state. Each political subdivision shall meet and confer with the exclusive representatives of their employees on the development or selection of a job evaluation system.

471.995 Report Availability.

Notwithstanding section 13.37, every political subdivision shall submit a report containing the results of the job evaluation system to the exclusive representatives of their employees to be used by both parties in contract negotiations. At a minimum, the report to each exclusive representative shall identify the female-dominated classes in the political subdivision for which compensation inequity exists, based on the comparable work value, and all data not on individuals used to support these findings.

471.996 Repealed, 1990, c 512 s 13

471.9966 Effect on Other Law.

Notwithstanding section 179A.13, subdivision 2, it is not an unfair labor practice for a political subdivision to specify an amount of funds to be used solely to correct inequitable compensation relationships. A political subdivision may specify an amount of funds to be used for general salary increases. The provisions of section 471.991 to 471.999 do not diminish a political subdivision's duty to bargain in good faith under chapter 179A or sections 179.35 to 179.39.

471.997 Human Rights Act Evidence.

The commissioner of human rights or any state court may use as evidence the results of any job evaluation system established under section 471.994 and the reports compiled under section 471.995 in any proceeding or action alleging discrimination.

471.9975 Suits Barred.

No cause of action arises before August 1, 1987 for failure to comply with the requirements of Laws 1984, chapter 651.

471.998 Report to Commissioner.

Subdivision 1. Report on implementation plan: contents. Every political subdivision shall report to the commissioner of employee relations by October 1, 1985, on its plan for implementation of sections 471.994 and 471.995. Each report shall include:

- (1) the title of each job class which the political subdivision has established;
- (2) the following information for each class as of July 1, 1984:
  - (a) the number of incumbents;
  - (b) the percentage of incumbents who are female;
  - (c) the comparable work value of the class, as determined under the system chosen under section 471.994; and
  - (d) the minimum and maximum monthly salary for the class;
- (3) a description of the job evaluation system used by the political subdivision; and
- (4) a plan for establishing equitable compensation relationships between female-dominated and male-dominated classes, including:
  - (a) identification of classes for which a compensation inequity exists based on the comparable work value;
  - (b) a timetable for implementation of pay equity; and
  - (c) the estimated cost of implementation.

Subd. 2. Technical assistance. The commissioner of employee relations shall, upon request of a political subdivision, provide technical assistance in completing the required reports.

Subd. 3. Public Data. The report required by subdivision 1 is public data governed by chapter 13.

471.9981 Counties and Cities: Pay Equity Compliance.

Subdivision 1. 1988 report. A home rule charter or statutory city or county, referred to in this section as a "governmental subdivision," that employs ten or more people and that did not submit a report according to section 471.998, shall submit the report by October 1, 1988, to the commissioner of employee relations.

The plan for implementing equitable compensation for the employees must provide for complete implementation not later than December 31, 1991, unless a later date has been approved by the commissioner. If a report was filed before October 1, 1987, and had an implementation date after December 31, 1991, the date in the report shall be approved by the commissioner. The plan need not contain a market study.

Subd. 2. Repealed, 1990, c 512, s 13

Subd. 3. Repealed, 1990, c 512, s 13

Subd. 4. Repealed, 1990, c 512, s 13

Subd. 5. Repealed, 1990, c 512, s 13

Subd. 5a. Implementation Report. By January 31, 1992, each political subdivision shall submit to the commissioner an implementation report that includes the following information as of December 31, 1991:

- (1) a list of all job classes in the political subdivision;

- (2) the number of employees in each class;
- (3) the number of female employees in each class;
- (4) an identification of each class as male-dominated, female-dominated, or balanced as defined in section 471.991;
- (5) the comparable work value of each class as determined by the job evaluation used by the subdivision in accordance with section 471.994;
- (6) the minimum and maximum salary for each class, if salary ranges have been established, and the amount of time in employment required to qualify for the maximum;
- (7) any additional cash compensation, such as bonuses or lump-sum payments, paid to the members of a class; and
- (8) any other information requested by the commissioner.

If a subdivision fails to submit a report, the commissioner shall find the subdivision not in compliance with subdivision 6 and shall impose the penalty prescribed by that subdivision.

Subd. 5b . Public Data. The implementation report required by subdivision 5a is public data governed by chapter 13.

Subd. 6. Penalty for failure to implement plan. (a) The commissioner of employee relations shall review the implementation report submitted by a governmental subdivision, to determine whether the subdivision has established equitable compensation relationships as required by section 471.992, subdivision 5a, by December 31, 1991, or the later date approved by the commissioner. The commissioner shall notify a subdivision found to have achieved compliance with section 471.992, subdivision 1.

(b) If the commissioner finds that the subdivision is not in compliance based on the information contained in the implementation report required by section 471.992, subdivision 5a, the commissioner shall notify the subdivision of the basis for the finding. The notice must include a detailed description of the basis for the finding, specific recommended actions to achieve compliance, and an estimated cost of compliance. If the subdivision disagrees with the finding, it shall notify the commissioner, who shall provide a specified time period in which to submit additional evidence in support of its claim that is in compliance. The commissioner shall consider at least the following additional information in reconsidering whether the subdivision is in compliance:

- (1) recruitment difficulties;
- (2) retention difficulties;
- (3) recent arbitration awards that are inconsistent with equitable compensation relationships; and
- (4) information that can demonstrate a good-faith effort to achieve compliance and continued progress toward compliance, including any constraints the subdivision faces.

The subdivision shall also present a plan for achieving compliance and a date for additional review by the commissioner.

(c) If the subdivision does not make the changes to achieve compliance within a reasonable time set by the commissioner, the commissioner shall notify the subdivision and the commissioner of revenue that the subdivision is subject to a five percent reduction in the aid that would otherwise be payable to that governmental subdivision under section 124A.23, 273.1398, or sections 477A.011 to 477A.014, or to a fine of $100 a day, whichever is greatest. The commissioner of revenue shall enforce the penalty beginning in calendar year 1992 or in the first calendar year beginning after the date for implementation of the plan of a governmental subdivision for which the commissioner of employee relations has approved an implementation date later than December 31, 1991. However, the commissioner of revenue may not enforce a penalty until after the end of the first regular legislative session after a report listing the subdivision as not in compliance has been submitted to the legislature under section 471.999. The penalty remains in effect until the subdivision achieves compliance. The commissioner of employee relations may suspend the penalty upon making a finding that the failure to implement was attributable to circumstances beyond the control of the governmental subdivision or to severe hardship, or that non-compliance results from factors unrelated to the sex of the members dominating the affected classes and that the subdivision is taking substantial steps to achieve compliance to the extent possible.

Subd. 7. Appeal. A governmental subdivision may appeal the imposition of a penalty under subdivision 6 by filing a notice of appeal with the commissioner of employee relations within 30 days of the commissioner's notification to the subdivision of the penalty. An appeal must be heard as a contested case under section 14.57 to 14.62. No penalty may be imposed while an appeal is pending.

471.999 Report to Legislature.

The commissioner of employee relations shall report to the legislature by January 1 of each year on the status of compliance with section 471.992, subdivision 1, by governmental subdivisions.

The report must include a list of the political subdivisions in compliance with section 471.992, subdivision 1, and the estimated cost of compliance. The report must also include a list of political subdivisions found by the commissioner to be not in compliance, the basis for that finding, recommended changes to achieve compliance, estimated cost of compliance, and recommended penalties, if any. The commissioner's report must include a list of subdivisions that did not comply with the reporting requirements of this section. The commissioner may request, and a subdivision shall provide, any additional information needed for the preparation of a report under this subdivision.

OF JANUARY 1993

INTRODUCTION

The Department of Employee Relations (DOER) submitted its required report according to M.S. 471 Section 471.999 on the status of pay equity in local governments in January of 1993. In that report we said that a list of jurisdictions in and out of compliance would be submitted later in the legislative session. Attached is the list of jurisdictions reviewed as of April 2, 1993. This list includes approximately 95% of all jurisdictions covered by the Local Government Pay Equity Act. The remaining 5% of the jurisdictions need further attention, primarily to clarify data submitted in their reports.

Of the 1464 jurisdictions reviewed so far, approximately 75% have been found in compliance and 25% have been found out of compliance. Those in compliance have been put on a three-year reporting cycle. One-third will report in each year beginning in 1994, and these reports will be reviewed by DOER to ensure that pay equity compliance is maintained.

Those jurisdictions out of compliance are in various stages of making changes to come into compliance. Approximately 15% of the jurisdictions out of compliance have already made adjustments, some retroactive back to December 31, 1991, and have filed new reports to be reviewed. About 25% have asked for an extension of time to come into compliance or an opportunity to explain circumstances affecting their compliance status. Indications from extensive personal phone contact with most of the remaining jurisdictions who have not already filed second reports or who have not asked for reconsideration, are that they will be able to make adjustments and submit new reports within the time frame given to them. Depending on when the initial non-compliance notice was sent to the jurisdiction, the date for submitting a second report is either June 30, 1993 or August 31, 1993.

It should be noted that those jurisdictions which were found out of compliance after the initial review will not face any penalties as long as their second report is submitted on time and shows compliance.

Questions about individual jurisdictions or pay equity in general can be directed to Pay Equity Coordinator, Faith Zwemke, by calling 612-296-2653.
